LaVonne Babbitt Crowned 1946 Wistaria Fete Queen Sunday

Over 3000 Visitors Attend Ceremonies at Vine on Sunday

Sierra Madre's greatest asset for nation-wide publicity, the 53rd annual Wistaria Fete got off to a fine start on the opening day, Thursday, and nearly 3,000 people visited the Vine Sunday when the Queen was chosen with appropriate ceremonies.

Mrs. Laura Morgan, chairman of the Fete for the Woman's club, announced Miss LaVonne Babbitt, 17-year-old daughter of Mrs. Peggy Babbitt and the late Robert Babbitt, as the choice of the Judges for Queen. She was a lovely Queen as she was crowned before the enthusiastic audience by Beverly Hawthorne, screen player, and she and the four Princesses, who will rule over the Fete, were photographed under the giant vine by numerous press photographers and visitors with cameras.

The Queen was chosen by the judging committee, composed of Miss Hawthorne, Andrew Loomis, well known magazine illustrator, and "Whitey" Schafer, Paramount Studio photographer. Mr. Loomis presented Miss Babbitt with an autographed copy of his book, "Figure Drawing, For All Its Worth" and also made an appointment with her to pose for some pictures and plans to arrange for some sittings for illustrations later.

Queen LaVonne was in receipt of a telegram from the 1945 Wistaria Queen, reading as follows: "Congratulations to the 1946 Wistaria Queen. May she be as lovely as the blossoms that surround her and her reign be a happy one. Best wishes."

Betty Jo Adams Griffith, Linda Christian, titian haired motion picture actress, was the first visitor to the Vine on opening day and she was presented with a lei by Mrs. Marion Thayer as she entered the gates.

The great Vine, covering virtually an acre, presented a gorgeous display of lavender blossoms and together with the other plants and flowers, was claimed by visitors as one of the most spectacular floral exhibits in the world.

Friday the Princesses were guests at the Brown Derby in Hollywood, where they met the Judges and had lunch with them and Mrs. Thayer and Walter Shaw, publicity director for the Fete. The girls got a big thrill out of meeting Jane Withers while there.

"CROWN BUT NO BUTTER"

One of the neighboring dailies reported that Sierra Madrans are buying their vegetables from a Queen today. Fete Queen LaVonne Babbitt who is cashier at the vegetable department of Robert's Market.

"No, I can't get you any butter or bacon," she is said to have told reporters after being crowned by Beverly Hawthorne, Hollywood movie actress and one time magazine "cover girl."

Glendora Kiwanians Visit Local Club

An inter-club meeting was held Tuesday at the Kiwanis club, about 20 members of the Glendora club being guests.

A debate on the subject of Double Taxation between the two clubs, with Robert Dodge and Eugene Lunsford upholding the honor of the local club, resulted in a tie.

President Henry Korschmeier co-presided with Pres. Robert Weaver of Glendora. Harry Lange was chairman of the day.

Gas Company Seeks Consumer Rate Cut

Residents of the Foothill-San Gabriel Valley area today learned of plans of the Southern Counties Gas Company for cutting gas rates to consumers pending decision of the Railroad Commission by March 31.

Communities affected would include Sierra Madre, Monrovia, Arcadia, Temple City, Azusa, El Monte, Rosemead, Glendora, Whittier and others in the eastern San Gabriel Valley.

Lloyd Cooper, gas engineer of the company told a State Railroad Commission hearing Wednesday that he favored continuing a 7½ per cent discount to consumers that has been in effect since December, 1944, but which is due to expire this month.

Cooper suggested that the 7½ per cent discount figure be accepted as a minimum and that further discounts be adjusted quarterly by the commission in accordance with company earnings.

Bride-to-be Leaves Money in Booth

It is very doubtful if the person who found the pocketbook in the phone booth at the Sierra Madre Hotel could keep the contents if he knew the story woven about the savings of a bride-to-be.

An Army Nurse, a first Lieutenant, came to Sierra Madre in preparation for her coming marriage to a young man from one of the fine local families. Tuesday morning as she was about to make a Pasadena shopping trip she stopped in the lobby to make a phone call and in the hurry of catching her car left her pocket book in the phone booth. Although she returned in a very few minutes the money was gone.

Surely there would be no pleasure in keeping such a find. It is a most tragic circumstance that it should happen to a young lady whose marriage is only a few days away. With her savings gone the wedding finery will only be a dream.

If anyone has the purse and money a telephone call to CU, 5-8333 will brighten the world for one little girl. There will be no embarrassing questions asked.

Sierra Madre Feels Series of Quakes

Sierra Madre residents felt the earthquake shocks distinctly Friday morning, which were general over Southern and Central California, minor shocks continuing for some days after. The greatest damage done was caused by earth slides which broke the Los Angeles Aqueduct in the Owens Valley.

Huge boulders rolled down the mountainside over an area about 10 miles long, one tearing about 12 feet of the roof of the viaduct and some five feet of a sidewalk, releasing about half the water flow and spilling 100,000 gallons a minute across the State Highway.

Arrived Home From Saipan

Tech. Sgt. Donald E. Fairbanks of the Air Forces is home this week after two years in the service, eight months of which were spent overseas. He arrived in San Francisco Monday aboard the Marine Lynx from Saipan and came south on a train carrying 125 Southern California boys.

Sgt. Fairbanks is due to be discharged at Fort MacArthur in a few days. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fairbanks, 86 E. Highland, and brother of Mrs. Roy Edwards, Jr., 479 Auburn.

Our Public Library

To the Folks of Sierra Madre: This is your "Free Public Library" speaking.

For the preceding two weeks you have been told my history, and also the progress of all other public buildings and projects in Sierra Madre. It is now my turn to inform you as to why I should have a new home.

Fifty years ago, a small group of people met together and decided that I should have a home and that I should be a continuing service for me to become a living memorial was furnished by this small group of pioneer Americans.

For many years through the constant care of this small group of people, and their love of service for their neighbors and friends, I was fed, housed, and I grew through the proceeds resulting from church socials, straw-rides, ice-cream festivals and such activities.

This small group of supporters annually elected a group of officers to administer to and supervise my growth. This custom, however, with some slight variation up to the present time. The success and sincerity of these various administrations have been fully justified, in that, to date no group of officers has ever exceeded its anticipated or set budget.

I have served the entire community with its continuing growth, both old and young, sick and well, for over half a century continued on page eight

The government form No. 1507 reads: "In order that you may continue to receive free delivery service by carrier, the Department requests that you promptly supply the missing receptacle or house number, as the case may be, within the next 30 days. Failure to do so will result in withdrawal of delivery service at the end of this period."

The local postal personnel will appreciate the co-operation of the public which will facilitate the promptness of mail and parcel post in the city.

GUEST SPEAKER AT V. F. W. MEET

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 3208, was honored with the presence of Everett G. Burkhalter, State Assemblyman, at the regular meeting. Mr. Burkhalter spoke briefly about the benefits of both World War I and World War II, and also explained some of the legislation pending action by the state legislature.

During the course of the regular business meeting, at which Commander Joseph Storm presided, due to the absence of Commander Eakman, the forthcoming baseball season was the main topic. Rapid strides have been made and expectations are high that the team will be holding practice sessions within the next three weeks. Another item high on the agenda of business was the nomination of officers for the ensuing year. The officers of Commander, Senior Vice-Commander, Junior Vice-Commander, Chaplain, and Trustee were open for nominations. Elections will be held for the above named offices at the next regular meeting, March 28. All members are urged to be present if possible.

Four new members were added to the ever growing organization whose membership now totals very near the 100 mark.

A resolution was passed whereby the Sierra Madre Post went on record as favoring a bonus for veterans of World War II which is now being considered by Congress.

At the meeting of the Recreation Commission Tuesday evening Mayor Thomas Schwartz informally discussed the program for the coming year and asked the Commission to submit recommendations for the first six months, ending June 30, to the Council.

A communication was received from adult patrons of the City Park asking for the improvement of the shuffleboard and horseshoe courts, the improvement of a card playing room, the improvement of the grounds, additional equipment and a program for adult recreation.

CITY EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT PLAN

Proposition No. 2 on the ballot at the coming municipal election will be the question of whether or not Sierra Madre shall take advantage of the provisions of the State Employees Retirement Act passed by the Legislature in 1932 and amended in 1939 in order to permit participation by cities and other governmental units.

A YES vote on this proposition is absolutely necessary if we want to bring up to date our city's method of compensating its employees and to enable it to compete with private industry and other governmental units in obtaining and retaining the services of competent men and women.

Disregarding the fact that municipal employees are usually paid less than men and women in private employment performing comparable services, it must not be forgotten that municipal employees are excluded from the benefits of the Federal Social Security Act which applies only to those in private employment. Furthermore, and particularly with current living costs, it is impossible for the city employee to save enough out of his pay, after caring for himself and his family, to provide for his old age and possible disability.

We should bear in mind that we are the employers of the men and women who operate our city government and that as such, we cannot lag behind other employers, both private and public, in sharing the cost with our employees in a plan to provide for their old age. Sierra Madre is now far behind in this respect.

Another article will appear in next week's NEWS giving particulars of the State Employees Retirement System and will recite to the benefit of the citizens of the City of Sierra Madre.

Mt. Wilson Becoming Television Broadcasting Center of Southland

Thirteen Sites on Slopes Obtained for Transmitters

Mt. Wilson, for years the scientific attic of the Southland whence the heavens have been charted, soon will become the lofty origin for a new science of television.

Already 13 sites have been obtained on or near the 6000-foot mountain by television organizations and several additional sites will be secured for frequency modulation transmitters.

Two of the companies nearly have completed their buildings and installations and expect to begin televising within a few weeks. Hundreds of thousands of dollars will be invested on the mountain and old-timers anticipate the eventual establishment of a sort of sky-high Hollywood settlement on the pine-studded slopes.

EFFECT STUDIED

This encroachment is looked upon philosophically by seasoned Wilson scientists, including Joe Hickox, who for 19 years has observed the doings of the sun from the 150-foot sun tower, tallest of the Carnegie Institute's silver observatory structures.

Tests have been made, Hickox explained, to determine the effect of high-frequency television equipment on delicate photographic paraphernalia in the observatories. The intricate equipment apparently will not be hindered by the proximity of the powerful broadcasting stations.

"And as for the influx (or upflux) of people," Hickox said, "we've had them right along anyway."

A. C. Childs, president of the Mt. Wilson Hotel Co., explained that a condition of operation of the observatory on the hotel land is that visitors be allowed to view the machinery and that an astronomical museum be maintained.

Reason for the rush of television companies to Mt. Wilson is scientifically basic. Television waves do not bend. They shoot straight out from their source, continuing straight into infinity over the curve of the earth into space.

Thus it is necessary to televise from as great an altitude as possible to reach the maximum range. From Mt. Wilson, it is

Pouring of Cement Delayed at Youth Center by Rains

On account of the rain of the past few days, announcement is made that it will be impossible to pour the cement floor of the new Youth Building at the Recreation Center at Waterworks Park Sunday and it will have to be postponed one week to Sunday, March 31.

A large number of helpers is needed on that date. Parents having children in the youth organizations are urged to be present and come early, at eight o'clock out from their source, completed by 12 o'clock so that the skilled cement workers may do the finishing work in the afternoon.

Henry Nuetzel Hurt in Automobile Crash

Henry B. Nuetzel received injuries in an automobile accident Sunday evening at 11:25 when his car crashed into a parked car on Sierra Madre Boulevard, west of Sunnyside.

The P. E. tracks had been under repair and obstructions and red lights placed. The lights of a car going west blinded Nuetzel and he turned into the parked car to avoid the other.

The parked car was knocked clear across the street, both cars were badly damaged and Mr. Nuetzel was bruised and suffered severe cuts on his face.

The parked car belongs to Marie Hoge, 390 Sycamore Place.

Five Year Stay Here Couple Regret Leave For Foreign Home

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sumner of Johannesburg, South Africa who have been living in Sierra Madre the past five years, will return to their homeland next Monday, sailing from San Francisco. The Sumners hurriedly left Africa in '40 seeking medical aid for Mrs. Sumner's eyes. They came via New York directly to Long Beach where they lived for a year. It was by chance that they discovered the charm of Sierra Madre and have remained here five years learning to love the city and its people. Mr. Sumner said although they have been world travelers since 1921 this was the first departure they have ever regretted to make.

The Sumners are English by birth. Mrs. Sumner was born in Bombay, India and Mr. Sumner, as an English soldier in the Boer War, became interested in the African gold mines. It is the sincere hope of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner to arrange their affairs so that they may return to Sierra Madre, build a home and be "Happy ever after."

SERGEANT HOME RECOVERS FROM MINE ACCIDENT

Edward Cookingham has returned to his home at 401 Auburn. He was an Ordinance Sergeant for three years with the Army, the last year, in Germany. He was in the invasion through France and Belgium with the 1st Splitters Division. He was one of the G.I.'s who kept the equipment going, trucks, tanks and guns. At the Hanover invasion he was seriously wounded when the jeep in which he was riding went over a land mine. The captain and all others in the jeep were killed. Mr. Cookingham said he remembered nothing about the incident only that he awakened in the hospital. Mr. Cookingham witnessed several of the re-taking episodes of Concentration Camps. He said the evident cruelty was beyond imagination. As the corpses of the victims were removed from the common graves they found men, women and children with their wrists wired together. The American reaction was to make the Germans dig a grave for each one; make him sit in the grave with the corpse and place flowers in the grave. "Sierra Madre looks very good to me," said the returned sergeant who has been six months in the hospital and decorated with the Purple Heart.

Sierra Madrean Has New Book Published

Dr. Adele Howland, well known Sierra Madre resident, is author of the book, "Why Grow Old" which has recently been published by the Christopher Publishing House of Boston.

The following announcement is made by the publishers: "Why Grow Old" should act as a challenge to all those who are handicapped by sickness and brooding over their troubles. It was written to bring cheer to all, but especially to servicemen, who, home after their trying experiences, are seeking to readjust themselves to civilian life. This book is dedicated to all servicemen in appreciation of their splendid service to our country.

In her book Dr. Howland feels as if she is visiting each reader personally, and her witty stories and funny anecdotes would make anyone laugh. It is simply written of plain every day experiences in her own life, but Dr. Howland's pen adds such humorous touches that you can easily see her motto in life is "Laugh and the World laughs with you; weep and weep alone." Born in Kansas, she started a literary career at 12, but this was cut short by an affliction of an incurable spinal sickness. Instead of becoming morbid and defeated, Dr. Howland fought back. She developed an interest in Psychology and applied the laws of self-development to herself. Her book "The Science of Knowing Oneself" is a result of this study, which she wrote through years of suffering, training and experience, and will transform the life of anyone who abides by its rules. Through her wisdom for many years she tried hard to laugh and be cheerful and forget her troubles, and this she claims produced the best results. Throughout her life there were many sorrows, but Dr. Howland learned to see the funny side of everything and refused to grow old. At 65, she delights in the fun and gain of her children and enjoys the companionship of young folks. Her musical talent is in great demand and her writings are widely read. She gives you her prescription for a full and happy life in "Why Grow Old."

FIRE FLAMES

The firemen are very anxious to get rid of all fire hazards existing about town. If we can succeed before the dry season reaches us, it cannot help but prevent fires. Call the fire department now and have them advise you on getting rid of that pile of inflammable materials. You may have a lot of stuff in the garage, the basement or piled up on the outside that will not do you nor the neighborhood any good. Let's eliminate it from the premises. Eradicating these nuisances will be preventing fires.

During the past week the assigned six man crews have been following their instructions. Drills have been conducted under the leadership of the appointed Captains. All declare the arrangement of great value in learning the workings of the fire equipment. This means that each member of the department must give more time to this work. Rather than the semi-monthly drills that have been the usual routine for many years, it means more evenings. Wives of those who give so much time must be consoled by knowing that the work is of vital importance to the safety of the community. Many of the firemen are interested in other civic activities, but most feel that fire fighting is of first concern.

Among those who are assisting Clarence Huntsinger and his committee with the construction of the Recreation building at the city grounds, will be found several members of the fire department. Vern Udell with his bulldozer showed them how to move a lot of dirt without the use of shovels, which was a great relief to fellows who hated to think of the idea. Several good shoves and the place was full.

Other prominent firemen seen around the construction are "Silent" Spears, Bill Estes and Owen Kiggins. These fellows are able to swing a mean hammer and they can hit the "Nail on the head."

A regular drill this Friday will be followed by the business meeting. All members are expected to be present in order to uphold their interests. Like most meetings, the one who is absent is liable to be panned. It is of vital importance that all members attend regularly in order to remain efficient and in line with department necessities. Those who cannot find time to attend should resign for those who can. A good fireman never takes his eyes off the hose and the man with a burning ambition is seldom fired. Fire you know, makes light of everything and most fires are put out before much damage is done by the firemen. We are not the sort that do damage, it is hoped. A poor fireman with an axe can smash more doors and windows than fire ever would. We are not that sort either. A sap with a big nozzle and lots of water at the end of it can have a lot of fun washing the furniture from one room to another. That has been done, but we don't do it. Let's get together around the table this Friday and talk the thing over. We must always remember that that fire we are going to fight AL-ways comes when we are unaware. We best be prepared for it.

To our friends of the city who are anxious that we retain our few fires record, we ask that they assist us by thinking of the danger of fire all the time. To be fire conscious is to prevent fires. Let's keep the FIRES OUT.

FISHING NEWS

By WOODY WILSON

OCEAN FISHING

Newport, Kings Landing — Catches include varieties of bass, sculpin, rock cod and a few small white sea bass. Bait at present is mostly sardines with a few anchovies making their appearance and fishing is improving each day as the season comes into full swing.

SURF FISHING

Surf fishing is improving this week with reports pouring in of some nice spotfin and yellowfin croaker catches and an occasional corbina. The corbina run has not started yet, but it won't be long now. Big white surf perch are hitting pretty well along the beaches at Hermosa and Redondo and at Doheny State Park beach below Long Beach.

BASS FISHING

Lake Henshaw—Crappie and bluegill fishing continues good. A few fair catches of bass have also been reported taken on dingy and other underwater plugs.

Lake Mead—Good fishing was had at Black Point, 18 miles from Boulder City, and around the rocks in deep water in the early mornings. Afternoon fishing is producing best in deep channel waters.

Lower Otay—Bass are still hitting mudsuckers and hares at Lower Otay Reservoir. Although not many anglers are catching them, fish taken are unusually heavy.

Hodges Reservoir—Hodges is improving by the week and a little warm weather should provide good sport.

Operations at the new Whittier fish hatchery are going ahead with leaps and bounds, thanks to the help given fish and game men by individual sportsmen and clubs early in its formation. Some five tons of trout for planting will be produced by the hatchery this year for Southern California streams and lakes.

Sportsmen of California and their families are sincerely invited to visit Ensenada, Mexico, during the Annual Fishing Fiesta March 30 and 31.

In 1876 Capt. Alfred Johnson sailed alone in a 16-foot dory from Gloucester, Mass., to Liverpool, England.

POLICE BLOTTER

Flashing lights far atop the mountain peaks caused much trepidation among the natives who are ever alert and looking upward. County surveyors have worn out many flashlights with in the past few months by signaling to each other from peak to peak and from street to street. Just what they are doing is beyond the intelligence of this humble writer. And beyond that, these flashers of flashlights do not seem to be able to put much light on the subject when you ask them. Perhaps a dark, dark secret that only flashlights can reveal. A family argument brought the cops to the scene only to remind the folks that if they insisted on a continuance of their domestic contention they would much rather be omitted from appearing until tranquility returns. An Army helmet found in the bushes by a resident was cause for a call to the police. The owner was found and it was learned that a small boy had placed it there. A tree limb across the walk, called the cops. A neighbor pretty sore. The "gunners" are reminded that there "is a law." Judge Eaton's door left open again. Who could be doing this. Gene, Tom, Nina, Miranda or Noren? Rifle shooting in the mountains near town is no good place as some boys found out. Jim Heasley picks up another blonde with the most beautiful eyes. Despite that she is only three years old, she has what it takes. Taken to her home at 196 W. Montecito, her mother Mrs. Sellers was glad to see her. A tree limb across the walk. Another three year old takes a walk some distance from home and is soon returned. A homing pigeon insists on roosting on a fence to the concern of the fence owner. A prowler called. A fine long haired black cocker is killed along Lima Street, by an auto. A petty theft reported, consisting of tools and such. (Don't loan your tools). An offensive offense committed by a youth. "Jake" Smith went home and left the key in the office door. Wonder what HE was thinkin' of. The copers prevented a street fight, somewhere. Dog bite case. Stolen Bike. Boy falls off the side of the mountain. This is getting regular of late. It would be advisable to stay on the trails. A large pile of feathers strewn about the street along East Algeria had many people thinking a pile of snow had been dropped there. A slight wind carried them to undesirable locations, much to the chagrin of neighbors. Too many cars attend the Wistaria Fete on Sunday making parking spaces hard to get. People are very unthoughtful and some of them will actually drive into your front yard if you don't watch them. Auto accident on Sierra Madre Boulevard near Sunnyside. Driver drives into a parked car. A lost purse is reported. The owner and the police are hoping that an honest person such as we have been so highly commending, finds it and returns it. A poor little stray puppy finds children to play with, but he couldn't stay there. He was taken to the pound because no one seemed to know where he belonged. Cute little feller. We asked for rain—we got it.

DOGS' ROUND TABLE

The cool weather has driven the dogs inside for their weekly meeting and so they are again gathered around the big open fireplace.

Fork Chops with the perky ears opens the meeting with the question, "What shall we discuss today?"

Spunky pops up, "What has anyone heard about the dogs who used to come and call on us?"

Laddie with a sudden move and a deep growl (which always commands respect from the little puppies) sits up straight and stiff before he answers, "I heard that good old Queenie down the street wasn't going to be kept in by her Master," he says, "I pay for her license, if she gets picked up, that's her fault, I don't care."

Brown Bomber breaks in, "Can you imagine that, after all these years of devotion that Queenie has given her Master. How is Queenie to know that she shouldn't be on the street, if her Master doesn't look after her?"

Little Pee Wee in her lazy way speaks up, "Well, she does have her license on, that's something!"

Laddie having settled back since he has established himself with the puppies growls, "I'll say it is, for I heard the Master say only yesterday that any dog picked up on the street had this year's license on had a good chance of getting back home but unlicensed dogs with old licenses haven't a chance."

Spunky chimes in, "You know it just makes me sick to see the dogs on the street without collars and licenses. I wonder if they know how dangerous it is for them?"

Chorus of Animals, "Let us be sure that we have our collars and licenses on, and tell all the dogs we see about it."

Are you protecting your dog with a collar and a license?

The Frog TALKS about ROBERTS MARKET and Things!

The kiss of the sun for pardon, The song of the birds for mirth; One is nearer God's heart in a garden Than anywhere else on earth.

—Dorothy Frances Gurney

"God Almighty first planted a garden," said Francis Bacon. After seeing the delicate beauty of Sierra Madre's scented lavender and purple Wistaria blossoms, which are in such rich abundance this time of the year, I am sure God must have included a Wistaria vine in His first garden. Ourville and most of Southern California are now worshipping at the shrine of one of the world's largest and oldest Wistaria vines, an observance which is held here annually.

AN UNUSUAL DISTINCTION HAS COME TO ME! I, an humble Green Frog, to whom so little worldly experience comes, except that relating to the humdrum business of selling vegetables—I am now privileged to sit here and ogle with sly, yellow eye the QUEEN of the Wistaria Fete, LaVonne Babbitt. She is Titian-haired, and OH, BOY! Yes, she works for me—or am I working for HER! I dunno and I don't care! THEY TELL ME THERE IS ROMANCE IN Vegetables, so I had better get back to my own type of romance!

THE "ROMANCE" OF GREEN PEAS is that they are an ancient food brought to America by pioneer settlers. They were a favorite with ancient Greeks and Romans, etc., but who cares? They are exceptionally good now, and are specially priced this week in my department.

AS TO BANANAS, THEY ORIGINATED IN India and were later carried to Guinea and the Canary Islands, then across the Atlantic to Santo Domingo. The first shipment to the U. S. came from Cuba to New York in the 19th century. That is supposed to be "romance," but I can't seem to get my mind off that red-head! The thing YOU want to know it: do we have any bananas? The answer is: yes, maybe! It all depends on how long they last.

EVEN THOUGH I AM OCCASIONALLY, but only momentarily, out of dry onions and hothouse rhubarb, I DO HAVE almost everything else you need in the way of seasonal FRESH and out-of-season FROZEN fruits and vegetables. Yes, pineapples and mushrooms and hothouse cucumbers, too!

ACCORDING TO POP, THIS IS THE PLACE to buy your meat; and from what my frog-sharp ears pick up, you folks seem to agree with him. Between you and me, my own personal acquaintance with Les, Betty, Clarence, Giles and Lorraine leads me to believe that those "meat guys" are doing almost as good a job in the west as is being done in the east side of this joint! And by the way, this week Lorraine is making some good, old-fashioned, home-style Scramble for your approval. She hopes you will like it, but not too well! Conditions being what they are, she may not be able to find time to make enough to supply your demands! WHAT A WAY TO ADVERTISE!

THERE BEING SORT OF A THREE-WAY BUSINESS in this big, little store, I must bring in something about the grocery department, I suppose. After all, CURLY does scratch my back once in a while, so I will scratch HIS! He reminds me that there are plenty of soda crackers; a full line of all the ingredients necessary for a good Chop Suey Dinner, mostly Jan-U-Winer; AND a complete assortment of Dorset chicken products, such as Cream of Chicken and Mushroom Soup, and Home-Style Chicken Broth with Parts of Chicken. But GOOD!

HAVING HEARD SOME FAVORABLE comments on MOM's recipe for Chutney Dinner, I will attempt to pass said recipe on to you:

INGREDIENTS: 2 large dry onions, 2 green peppers, 14-lb. mushrooms (fresh or canned), 1 small can pimientos, 2 cans Campbell's tomato soup, 1/3 bottle Chutney, 2 cans of tuna, and 14-pt. of cream, bottle-top, canned milk or what have you. METHOD: Cut up onions and fry with mushrooms; mix tomato soup and cream, slowly blending cream into the soup; bring almost to a boil, and add other ingredients last. Add an ounce of Sherry before serving, if desired. Serves 8.

TIME AND SPACE PERMIT NO MORE.

Alfalfa Flour Good in Bread

An alfalfa and wheat flour mixture baked into hotcakes, bread and cookies provided an unusual breakfast served yesterday to Dr. George P. Clements, veteran agricultural counselor of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

It was dished up by his friend, Frank W. Bower, food research chemist of Sierra Madre, who proposed the alfalfa-wheat combination as one means of adequately feeding the starving people of war-torn countries.

"It tastes good," said Dr. Clements, "and certainly the alfalfa flour is rich in the needed vitamins, minerals, proteins, carbohydrates and fats."

Using one-third alfalfa flour to two-thirds wheat, Bower produces a meal for baking uses having a higher vitamin and protein content than the new "dark" wheat flour, he said. He and his family have been eating alfalfa food for over 30 years.

Alfalfa can be grown in agricultural areas clear around the world in the belt between 20 and 40 degrees north latitude. A crop planted this spring would produce two cuttings before next winter, the critical period for Europe, Dr. Clements added.

"It would be much better to have these children eating alfalfa flour than chewing bacon rinds and leather," Dr. Clements continued. "This is a filling, nutritious, life-giving food."

SEVEN VITAMINS

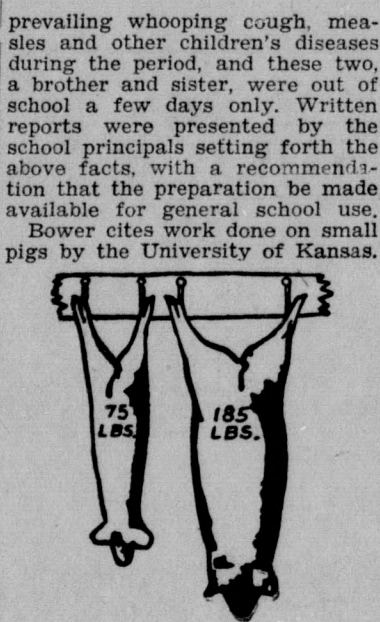

Alfalfa has seven vitamins, while wheat has only two, according to Bower. With famine threatening war-devastated Europe and the Middle East, he maintains that alfalfa flour added to wheat could go far toward filling an urgent need.

A short time ago, the Director of Home Economics of a California school, asked Bower to bring out if possible a special preparation rich in both vitamins and mineral salts which could be served in a palatable form to the many under-nourished children of the city schools. Two samples were assigned for a real clinical test on a preparation that was worked out. The schools were located in the poorer sections of the city, and all the pupils were Mexican children, almost all of them very much underweight and under-nourished, and susceptible to the children's deficiency diseases. One hundred of the most needy of each school were selected and a feeding test was conducted on these for four and one-half months, each pupil receiving an adequate amount of the food each day for that period. The test was conducted under the direction of a physician, the school nurse and school principal.

At the end of the test, a careful check-up was made. The gain in weight for each pupil was 3 to 8 pounds; gain in height, 1 to 4 inches. There was a marked increase in appetite, and the mentality report showed all the pupils but four passed their grades, these four being so normal, so did not count. This mentality test was the most gratifying to the school principals for there were no "repeaters." Furthermore, only two pupils of both school tests were ill from the

The accompanying cut shows what a feeding of corn alone did and what alfalfa, added to the corn, accomplished. The weight was 75 pounds against 185 pounds, and the bones were twice as large and three times as strong on the prevailing whooping cough, measles and other children's diseases during the period, and these two, a brother and sister, were out of school a few days only. Written reports were presented by the school principals setting forth the above facts, with a recommendation that the preparation be made available for general school use. Bower cites work done on small pigs by the University of Kansas.

Alfalfa-corn fed as for the corn fed alone, because of the large amount of calcium and other bone-building materials in alfalfa. Since the stomach of the one-year-old child is almost the same size and shape, and the gastric juice much the same as in a pig six months old, it is reasonable to believe that alfalfa fed to the growing child will make a sturdy bone and muscle structure just as it does in the pig. This illustration, comparing mother's adorable one to a pig, may not register just right with the mother, but the facts remain.

Alfalfa is rich in the digestive enzymes which are strong enough to greatly aid in the digestion of a full meal of proteins, fat and carbohydrates. It also carries nearly two per cent of chlorophyll, the green coloring, which is so necessary for pure blood, rosy cheeks.

Alfalfa, compared with grain in vitamins, minerals and other food values, shows much higher in all of them.

"European children stunted and starved for vitamins and minerals for five years would benefit immeasurably from the alfalfa mixture," said Bower.

What a Surprise!

Some folks are sure lucky—the kind that drop a nickel and pick up a dime. Oh yes, it does happen.

Take the case of Stella Janusz who happens to work in a local pottery. She bought a fine horse for several hundred dollars. It was particularly well fed. She took pains to ride it considerably to work off part of the excess stomach. Then it happened. One morning she walked out into the corral to discover a newly arrived colt!

"It's amazing," she said to a fellow pottery worker. "The man who sold me the horse had no idea he was selling me two horses for the price of one. . . !"

Well, it isn't so amazing after all. Stella is a lovely girl and is more fond of horses than any one I know of. She searched for months before she found the one she wanted. And don't take me to be superstitious, but something makes this old world tick, and, I believe, the reaching out into human hearts and shaping things to make us happy is part of His business.

PASADENA PLAYHOUSE

Little lady who laid aside her housework to scandalize a nation, little housewife who stopped her sweeping and dusting long enough to help start a war. That was Harriet Beecher Stowe, whose "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was created between household chores and brought tears and action from a nation.
"Harriet," noted drama by Col. in Clements and Florence Rverson, comes to Pasadena Playhouse stage from March 27 to April 7, to tell the dramatic and true story of the famous lady and her famous book.
Woven of laughter and tears, romance and adventure, of tears and comedy, of Topsy and Eva, is "Harriet."

Gertrude Stein's "Yes Is for a Very Young Man," current in it's world premiere at Pasadena Playhouse closes its run on Sunday, March 24.

Before the war hardly a month went by that we were not receiving to some query from a surety bond company relative to some applicant for this type of insurance. Our first query in a long time was in Saturday's mail and had to do with the risk represented by a young man who is now a civilian after four years service in the Navy. We read over the questions after this long holiday, with a bit of added interest. Here are two questions bracketed together under a single heading:

Is he single, married, divorced or widowed?

Anything unfavorable regarding his family relations, past or present?

This may be an old question but for some reason it seemed new or rewritten. In any event it asks about something young married folks should have in mind. "Divorces" and "unfavorable family relations" in our new tempo of living have come to be regarded as a weakness and makes for unsteadiness, lack of poise, mental disturbance and consequently reflect a hazard by concerns asked to look over the record and to pass on your stability and strength of character. Divorces are probably the answer in some cases but hereafter such record may be the difference between mental employment and a promotion. Watch your step and marry with care. Take a long range view of these social questions. They have come to mean something much more than used to be the case.

World-wide Food Shortage Causes Truman Appeal for Home Food Gardens Again

Because of the world-wide food scarcity, President Truman has called on Victory gardeners to continue in 1946 the home production of vegetables which added so much to the national food supply during the war.

The President's appeal will take many gardeners by surprise, and cause them to change their plans, if they had expected to convert their vegetable plots to flowers this spring. It is recognized that only a serious emergency would have caused the appeal.

Reports of increased commercial production and higher costs have been widely current, and predictions of a curtailed pack of canned goods have been made. The President's appeal asks for both production and preservation of food by amateurs, just as during the war, in order to increase the country's total supply. Forty per cent of this total in war years was credited to Victory gardens.

Immediate steps to inaugurate a government campaign to back up the President's appeal were taken by Secretary Anderson, who named Paul C. Stark of Missouri director of the National Garden Program and head of a committee to plan the department of agriculture's participation in the campaign.

Mr. Stark will also maintain liaison with other agencies involved, both governmental and private. The program will be carried forward in the various localities by working through the State Extension Services and other established agencies.

Commenting on the plans for this year, the President said:

"During the war period, gardening further demonstrated its value to our people in many ways. The splendid response to the appeal for more home-produced food was an important factor in making it possible during the war for the people of this country to be better fed than before the war while supplying the best-fighting forces in the world and providing essential food supplies to our allies. The threat of starvation in many parts of the world and the urgent need for food from this country emphasize the importance of continued effort to add to our total food supply this year."

"A continuing program of gardening will be of great benefit to our people. In addition to the contribution gardens make to better nutrition, their value in providing outdoor physical exercise, recreation and relaxation from the strain of modern life is widely recognized. The Department of Agriculture through a long-time garden program can do much to encourage more attractive home surroundings and improved community development; and can provide a large body of citizens with much needed assistance in home gardening."

Secret of Radish Success, Sow Little But Sow Often

The first radish he harvests thrills the home gardener more than the first brood. Three weeks, more or less, from the time the seed is sown, round, red, spicy roots are ready to serve, bringing to the menu a zest which stimulates winter-jaded appetites.

Yet many home gardeners have had trouble devising a radish program which would avoid the waste that comes when a planting is too large, and only a fraction can be used before the roots turn pithy, and must be thrown away.

The cause of this is the very short season that early radishes remain edible. The earlier they are sown, the shorter the season, because they are growing fast, and quickly pass by the edible stage on their way to the goal of all plant life, the production of seed.

With radishes, as with other crops, you must sow according to what you need. Figure out the number you will use in a week, and estimate that twelve early radishes can be produced in a foot of garden row. Then sow a week's supply of an early variety at a time. Midseason radishes will be usable for two weeks, so two weeks' supply of them can be sown. The early varieties do not grow well in hot weather. If you want a supply of summer radishes, sow a late variety for that season. But frequent sowings in small lots is a good rule for all except winter radishes which take two months to mature and remain good for six weeks. They grow very large, some weighing several pounds.

One way to grow early radishes is to mix them with the seeds of parsley, parsnips, carrots and beets, all of which are slow to germinate. Not more than a tenth as many radishes as the other seeds should be used. The radishes will germinate quickly, "marking the row" where the other seeds are sown, which will assist you in cultivating. Be sure to pull and eat the radishes as they mature before they can crowd the slower crops.

Harvesting the First Radishes Gives Home Gardeners a Thrill.

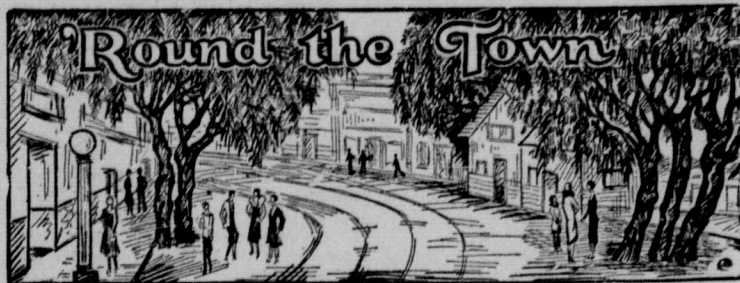

Again and again... This gentleman since 1894 appears in Washington on every occasion to voice his opposition to one and all measures before congress. Now he is against loan to Britain. He is "General" Jacob S. Coxey, leader of Coxey's army in 1894. He now wants to protest against the United States loaning any money to anyone in Europe.

Doesn't Always Pay to Toot Your Horn

Who wants a crowing rooster? No one in Sierra Madre—or so it seems to a bantam rooster who crowded himself out of a home with ex-police chief George Cox and had to be given away. Unable to restrain himself in his new home he ended up among the cats and dogs at the city pound where his crowing didn't gain him any popularity.

A group of citizens, learning of the bantam's plight, retrieved him and returned him to the Cox home where he still isn't wanted. However, being a kindly man Mr. Cox will keep him until some good farmer adopts him.

Earl Topping brought in a lovely silver cup to the News office which was awarded to the Sierra Madre Board of Trade January 1, 1946, for the float in the Tournament of Roses parade. Mr. Topping had charge of the building of the floats in 1917, 18 and 19.

The visit of Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Clifford, River Forest, Ill., who are house guests of Mr. Clifford's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Burbank, 42 E. Carter, has been made the occasion for several parties in their honor. Sunday they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jones, 49 E. Alegria, at a supper party which included Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Burbank and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Porterfield, 214 E. Carter. Friday Mrs. E. L. Whitney, 240 Sunnyside, entertained at luncheon and bridge for Mrs. Clifford. The position carries with it the rank of minister, shared previously by Mrs. Ruth Bryan Rhoads.

Mrs. J. J. O'Connor and daughter, Delirde, 473 W. Orange Grove, are going north Monday to join Lt. Commander O'Connor who is teaching military government at Stanford. Due to the housing shortage the O'Connors will temporarily occupy a quarters hut at the Navy station in San Bruno. They expect to return to Sierra Madre in about five months.

General Manuel Avila Camacho, President of Mexico, has ordered commencement of a new highway between Mexico City and Cuernavaca, Morelos. The highway will be routed via Milpa Alta and Oatepec to connect with the present highway to Cuautla. This will reduce the run by automobile to 40 minutes as against 60 minutes now necessary over the Acapulco highway, according to the Touring Department of the National Automobile Club. It will also mean that the trip to Cuernavaca can now be made without straining mileage, and with the opportunity of including more tourist sites. The project for this circular highway was made by instructions of Sr. Rolo Gomez, Governor of the Federal District.

NEW LIBRARY BUILDING?

April 9 the voters of Sierra Madre will be called upon to vote on whether the sum of $40,000 shall be raised by taxation for a new Library Building.

There is no question but that we need a new building. The old one is already 60 years old, which makes it a liability instead of an asset. It is bulging out with books, for which there is no room. Money sunk in the old building to modernize it, build an addition, paint it, etc., would be wasted as we would still have an old building which would have to be replaced some time.

We have a new building site, a gift, and $10,000 set aside for the new building by the City Council, which has already earned $200 interest.

The next question is as to whether the additional money for a new building shall be raised by taxation, by a bond issue or by public subscription.

The City Fathers are strictly against a bond issue. That takes years to pay off with huge interest costs.

Public subscription is heavy on the few and it is doubtful if sufficient money could be raised that way.

The taxation method is the fair way for every one to help and do his share.

Why should we be taxed now, if the building is not to be erected for two or three years?

Because to erect a building, we must have the money. We can't build it and then run the chance of putting it on the tax roll. The money raised will be put out at interest and will make money instead of our having to pay interest.

Let's pay as we go instead of a bonded indebtedness.

Candidates File for City Election.
Mayor Jones is a Coquette

A crowded house greeted the production given by the men of the Congregational church. Prof. Coates acted as stage manager and William Ross opened the show with a violin solo. A. S. Mead portrayed a colored preacher, Captain J. A. Osgood and W. E. Bechtelheimer contributed vocal numbers and Master Julius Fischer played two violin solos. Mr. Burke appeared in an Irish song and dance. The crowning event of the evening was the dramatization of Will Carleton's "Three Lovers" in which Mayor Jones played a charming coquette and City Marshal Casey was the successful lover.

Sierra Madre will be the scene of an important athletic event when amateur athletes compete for a gold medal donated by Richard K. Fox, of the Police Gazette, to the winner of three consecutive runs up Mt. Wilson Trail. The meet has been arranged by Charles J. and Richard Fox, Jr.

City Trustee J. Kraft returned from a trip to San Francisco. In the approaching municipal election James A. Madden is the only candidate for city clerk. J. J. Graham has not filed for reelection. L. C. Torrance, treasurer, and City Marshal W. P. Casey, will be unopposed. Messrs. Hosmer and Pegler have filed to succeed themselves as trustees. H. J. Irwin and J. K. Burke also have announced their candidacy for the office of trustee and have received the endorsement of the Civic League but in both cases there is some doubt as to their eligibility.

At the meeting of the council contracts were awarded for all street improvements except sidewalks on Central, Baldwin and Mountain Trail Avenues. The construction of cement box culverts goes to S. M. Sevier for Baldwin and Mountain Trail Avenues and to Andrew Holloway for Central Avenue. The Ladies Musical club met at the home of Mrs. Rhea, Auburn Avenue.

The Modern Priscillas were entertained by Miss Edith Blumer. Members of the Order of the Knights of King Arthur were entertained by Don Baxter at his home on Grand View Avenue.

Members of the cast of "The Fairchild" enjoyed a bonfire and supper at the Little Santa Anita Canyon home of Trevor Tesle. The post office building is being remodeled and thoroughly renovated. The lobby and the quarters of Postmaster Yerxa have been enlarged, the latter being more conveniently arranged for the handling of rapidly increasing mail matter. The exterior of the building and the interior of the store room of Yerxa Brothers have also received attention and in their renewed condition present an attractive appearance.

Precipitation at Sierra Madre for the 1907-08 season, to date, is 19.29 inches.

Wistaria Visitors to Visit Many Beautiful Private Gardens

A series of garden tours have been arranged under the direction of Carl Hart to take visitors to the Wistaria Fete through the city's residential sections and to the art exhibits at the "Little Gallery" and the public school. Gardens to be visited include the cactus garden of H. E. Jaeger, E. Central Avenue; the Japanese garden of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Isaac, E. Alegria; R. O. Calkin's garden, W. Grand View; the prize-winning garden of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Dorman, E. Alegria, and the F. Hooker Jones garden, W. Orange Grove.

A class for the instruction of parents of pre-school children is being organized under the supervision of the Sierra Madre P.T.A. with Mrs. Walter Stephens as director. Mrs. H. Clay Reavis was appointed chairman of the committee to arrange for the father-and-son banquet to be sponsored by the P.T.A. Mrs. William Middough will serve as program chairman of the banquet.

Sierra Madre P.T.A. gave a vote of confidence to Mrs. Ruth Klomme Boward, school trustee, who is a candidate for re-election. R. J. Thompson, Canyon Park Improvement Association representative in the Chamber of Commerce, pointed out that the usefulness of the municipal swimming pool in Canyon Park will be greatly restricted if two lots adjoining the pool are sold for residential purposes. He has petitioned the City Council to take them over for public park purposes under an agreement made by the owners with the city that they would ultimately be taken over for such use.

Roy Overly Shelter, Richard O. Walker and Mrs. Nattie May Walker, a new nurse, were admitted to membership in American Legion Post No. 297.

Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, school principal, received a request from Washington this week for permission to publish in "The American School and University" an international educational journal, pictures of the exterior and interior of the school building at Auburn, Highland and Hermosa Avenues.

A map just published by the California Title Insurance Company marks Sierra Madre as one of the 19 cities in Los Angeles county that showed an active interest in real estate during February. The local real estate market showed an increase of $6.25 per cent in the volume of February transfers over those of January.

"Sierra Madre has never shirked nor turned a deaf ear to the cry of distress and the directors feel there is no doubt but that our quota will be met," President Humphries of the Red Cross said in setting a day ending the drive for relief funds for the drought-stricken Middle West. Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Fleming entertained the directors of the Kiwanis club at their home. Those present were Waverly Pratt, H. Clay Reavis, Gordon Brooks, Frank Hildebrandt, Dr. W. J. Woehler, William J. Lawless, Frank Spencer, Warren Craig and R. C. Copenhaver.

The Sierra Madre Congregational League of Youth has been invited to take charge of the morning services at Switzer's Chapel at Switzerland, Arroyo Seco.

Mrs. Emil Sturmhals was winner of the door prize at the St. Patrick's Day card party at St. Rita's. Charles Young made the highest score at 500. Mary Higgins, Mrs. R. Decker, Nick Krueger and George A. Krie also held high scores. Mrs. Frank Lovell was highest in bridge with A. C. Scanlan, George MacRoberts, Mrs. R. Solary, Frances Brain, Bess Ross, Mrs. A. C. Scanlan and Mrs. M. A. Mydon also receiving high score.

The local American Legion Post announces that returns from soldiers bonus loan applications have begun to pour in.

Henry H. Lynch passed away at his home, 60 W. Montecito Avenue.

Mrs. Henry Ivins Hawhurst, 115 W. Bonita, addressed visiting parents at the Pasadena Prevention of "Child Correction Work."

On behalf of the Woman's club Mrs. Philip W. Senour presented a number of books, discarded by the public library to the soldiers' hospital at Sawtelle.

AROUND AND ABOUT

By EDWARD LLOYD VOORHEES

England — CHESTER'S ROYAL SHOW The word "Chester" is, of course, derived from the Latin "castra" (camp), which indicates the nature and purpose of Chester during the Roman occupation of Britain from 55 B. C. to about 410 A. D. Partly as a result of this occupation Chester remains one of the quaintest, most individual and attractive cities of England. For one thing, a complete and well-preserved wall about two miles in length surrounds the central part of the city, and from the promenade along the top of this wall the pedestrian has a fine view of the city's layout and principal buildings. Four main streets radiating at right angles from the cross at the center of the town lead to the four gates in the walls. A quaint feature of these streets are the open galleries, locally known as "the Rows," which extend for the most part along the second-floor front, giving entrance to the best shops and being overhung by the extension of the half-timbered third and even fourth floors, attics, and gabled roofs, although in part of the town the Rows are on the street level with cellars underneath. Underneath the second-floor Rows, shops line the street level also. The second floor galleries or Rows are reached from the street at short intervals by flights of steps. Here one frequently comes upon houses and public buildings labeled with names historically significant, such as Derby House, God's providence House, and the Bear and the Billet.

Leaving my lodgings as soon as I was settled, I walked into the center of the town to the East Gate, a beautiful arch of matched stone about twenty-five feet high about the busy thoroughfare, surmounted by a six-foot iron grill fence and slender, iron-grilled tower which supports the town clock directly above the middle of the street below. It was here I mounted the stairs to the Rows and then followed the top of the wall to get a general view of the town. It was easy to detect where the wall structure went back to the ancient Roman days and one sees an interesting fragment of the old Roman bath and the so-called "Caesar's Tower." My two-mile walk on the top of Chester's wall afforded a fine "bird-eye" view of the city and its surroundings and the handsome Cathedral Close. Not least in interest was the Phoenix Tower, where one is reminded that England, too, has had its revolutions, for on its wall is a plaque which reads: "King Charles stood on this tower September 24, 1645, and saw his army defeated on Rowton Moor." It was soon after this and the battle of Naseby that the ill-fated and intemperate King fled for protection to the Scottish camp, which was but another step on the road to his execution by the new Commonwealth.

That morning I also visited Chester's venerable and beautiful cathedral, built about the 10th century on the site originally occupied by the Abbey Church of the Anglo-Saxon St. Werburgh, whose remains were brought there about 875. The exterior of this Cathedral Church of Christ and the Virgin Mary (Episcopal) presents to the eye a general cruciform shape, with a large square Tudor tower rising at the center, all built of rather rough-hewn sandstone of a soft red tone, weathered by age and of an indescribable beauty in effect. Inside, this effect continues, augmented and variegated by the light streaming in through stained glass windows, particularly that of pale green above the high altar. The gem of the interior is the little chapel dedicated to St. Werburgh (in life, a princess, daughter of the Anglo-Saxon King of Mercia) with its activity of window of rich, shadowed colors, its golden angels, and its chancel screen in the Florentine style. The marvelously designed and hand-carved choir stalls of the Cathedral bring to mind interesting contrasts with our modern mass machine production, as did likewise a Madonna painted upon material woven from spider's web at Innsbruck in the Tyrol. These and other gems of art and architecture were brought to my attention by the cordial and well-informed sexton, an elderly Englishman who told me he had as a young man served in a similar capacity in a Catholic church in southern France.

News had got about that the Royal party had arrived late in the previous evening, that the King was a guest of the Earl of Derby at his country estate near Chester, and that they would drive through the streets around noon on their way to the Royal Agricultural Show and races. Standing beside the East Gate in the dense and friendly crowd that lined the streets I had a good view of the rather serious-visaged George V and his huge and affable host, who sat together in an open "Victoria," facing forward, while on the seat opposite them sat the gracious-looking Countess of Derby and another lady—but no Queen Mary, who undoubtedly for some very sufficient reason had not made the trip from London. After lunch, on the way to the Fair, we had an excellent view of the Royal party again, as they were resting under a large marquee set up on the green, where apparently their lunch had been served. The King was taller than I had expected, slender, and—my memory is correct—a trifle stooped, but every inch the King in bearing. As for the King's host, Lord Derby, with his six feet of height, proportionate breadth, equally generous girth, clean-cut aristocratic features, smiling with contented well-being before the sweeping curves of his long crusader mustache—he seemed the complete embodiment of what an English outdoor life combined with plenty of prime roast beef, Yorkshire pudding, nut-brown ale and heavy port can do to make the ideal, blooming, belted earl. Needless to say,

Once again we can say

"NEXT TIME, TRY THE TRAIN"

At long last we can see our way out of the woods. No longer is there a backlog of veterans waiting for transportation to their homes. The peak movement seems to be definitely over.

We want to sincerely thank all the civilians who refrained from traveling to make room for these men. And we want to point out that now some space is available on some Southern Pacific trains for you who wish to travel.

In other words, we can say "Next time, try the train", but as yet we can't say it very loud.

There is now quite a bit of space available in coaches and chair cars. Sleeping car space is tighter in comparison, but considerably more plentiful than it was, especially on certain trains.

Please call us if you're planning a trip anywhere. We'll do our best to get you the reservations you want.

No time limit on reservations

On and after March 15, you can make reservations as far in advance as you wish. The ODT order requiring you to make them no more than 14 days in advance has been repealed.

Three meals a day!

Dining cars on Southern Pacific trains are now serving three meals a day instead of two.

More improvements on the way

With our heavy war load easing, we will soon speed up trains and return the lounge cars and other refinements in service that we had to discontinue during the war.

Meanwhile we are going full speed ahead with an ambitious program of new streamlined trains that will be the finest the world has ever seen.

MASONIC DINNER WELL ATTENDED

Tuesday evening the Sierra Madre Masonic Lodge held its monthly dinner for Masons, their families and friends. In spite of inclement weather, the dinner was well-attended, there being almost 100 persons present.

The dinner was planned and served by Past Matron Helen Main who was assisted by other members of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Following the dinner, several talking motion pictures were shown, the principal one being a technicolor film depicting both primitive and civilized life along the great Amazon River of South America. These films were obtained through the efforts of John Mead, member of the Masonic Lodge's entertainment committee. Because of illness, the projectionist who was supposed to show the films was unable to be present. However, versatile Henry Korsmeier, Supt. of Schools, accepted and discharged this job in a highly professional manner.

SHAMROCK PATTERN

Irish or not, you probably consider St. Patrick's Day the time for wearing of the green and for inviting in a few friends. Naturally, food and drink will be patterned in Irish, and all will be festive with shamrocks. If it's a meal you're planning to serve, why not do it the easy buffet way? Prepare just a few appropriate dishes, but use all your knack and make them extra good. (A second helping, please.) Let the guests serve themselves; they'll think it's fun. That way you'll be able to sit down and eat right with them and have pep left over to be gay and entertaining at the table. Sure you'll steal their hearts away.

SPAGHETTI O'ROURKE

1 onion, chopped
2 Tbsp. salad oil
1 lb. ground beef
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. black pepper
Dash of red pepper
1/2 tsp. chili powder
1/2 tsp. Tabasco sauce
1 10 1/2 oz. can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 10 1/2 oz. can condensed tomato soup
1 8 oz. package long spaghetti
1/2 C. grated Parmesan cheese
Brown onion in hot oil; add meat and seasonings; brown lightly. Cover; simmer 10 minutes. Add soups and bring to boiling point. Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water till tender. Rinse in hot water. Put spaghetti in greased casserole, pour meat and sauce over it and sprinkle cheese on top. Bake uncovered at 350° for 45 minutes. Use a 2 qt. casserole. Serves 8.

IRISH SODA BREAD

3 1/4 C. flour (unsifted)
1/2 C. Graham flour
1/2 C. sugar
4 1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. baking soda
1/2 tsp. caraway seeds
1 egg
1 1/4 C. buttermilk or sour milk
1/4 C. salad oil or melted shortening

Sift together all dry ingredients, add caraway seeds. Beat egg and add buttermilk and shortening. Combine moist and dry mixtures, blending thoroughly but not beating. Turn out on lightly floured board; knead gently for about one minute. Shape in round loaf, place in greased round layer cake pan, let stand 10-15 minutes. Bake at 350° for one hour. After the bread has cooled, cut in thick slices just to, but not through, the bottom crust. Spread each slice with softened cream cheese and reheat loaf in hot oven about three minutes before serving. Sprinkle each slice with finely chopped parsley. Makes 8 large slices.

Home Town Help For Veterans

When Joseph M. Stack, National Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, called upon the home folks of America to help veterans find homes and jobs, unquestionably he struck a responsive chord. It is as American as apple-pie-with-cheese to lend a hand to a neighbor; it is a tradition of our National growth.

In granddad's day, before life became so swift and mechanized, a man's neighbors were his first thought in time of trouble. If his home burned, they joined in to help him rebuild it. If he broke a leg and couldn't harvest his crops, his neighbors turned to and did it for him, with a lot of good talk and companionship in the bargain. If a child got sick, the family did not have far to look for a practical nurse to help out. Every neighboring housewife was a willing candidate for the task. The great, impersonal agencies of Government cannot, in many ways, do for the ex-fighting man what his home-town folks can do.

Among every veteran's neighbors, are lawyers, businessmen, teachers and others equipped by experience to advise and aid him to a sound start on a job or in business enterprise for himself. Even Government has, in a most important field, recognized the therapeutic value of home environment. This is in treatment by the family physician for the veteran with service-connected disability. By arrangement between the Veterans' Administration and California Physicians' Service, the pioneer medical organization in voluntary health insurance, every such California veteran will be treated at Government expense by the home doctor he knows and wants. And while each neighbor may have a special service to offer the home-coming veteran, there is one common task for all, as the VFW chief says with emphasis. And that is to help him find a place to live. That's still about the toughest problem of all, in so many places!

To work, to live, to get well if he is ill, to have every opportunity for a satisfactory life in the environment of his own home community—those are privileges not to be given the veteran, but rather to be repaid to him. For he fought to preserve them for all the rest of us.

Hiking-bridle Trail May Be Started Soon

Work on the state's 3000-mile bridge and hiking trail, which will go through the Sierra Madre, Altadena and La Canada foothill area, will probably be instituted this summer.

This was announced today by Warren T. Mannum, state director of Natural Resources, in a statement to the California Riding and Hiking Trails Advisory Committee. First work likely be started in six counties, including Los Angeles.

The project was authorized by appropriation of $300,000 at the recent special session of the Legislature, in addition to $200,000 voted last year. Final cost of the trails will be $2,000,000. Mr. Mannum said.

faithfully and well, and now I am asking you, People of Sierra Madre, to help me to build a new home, that I may be of better service to you and that you may be proud of me.

Be at the grammar school Monday evening, March 25 at 8 p. m. and I will show to you a picture of the new home I desire. I want you, each person in Sierra Madre, to help me to build this new home, by voting "Yes" on Proposition I on your ballot, thereby showing that you, the people of 1946, are as desirous of continuing me as a living memorial through service and love of your neighbor.
